The Company expects FY 2013 coal production of 9.0-10.0Mt, coal sales of 9.5-10.5Mt (including approx. 500kt of coking coal sales to OKK and approx. 500kt of sales from thermal coal inventories.) NWR further expects FY 2013 coke production of 700kt and coke sales of 600kt.

Q4 2013 coking coal pricing⁴

The average agreed price for coking coal deliveries in the fourth quarter of 2013 is EUR 101 per tonne, an 11 per cent increase compared to the third quarter of 2013 realised price.

This average coking coal price is based on the expectation that coking coal sales for the fourth quarter 2013 will be split approximately 60 per cent hard coking coal (mid-volatility), 32 per cent semi-soft coking coal and 8 per cent PCI coking coal.

2013 thermal coal pricing

As announced earlier, an average price of EUR 60 per tonne applies to 2013 thermal coal deliveries, excluding the sales of middlings and lower grades of thermal coal from inventories. This average thermal coal price is based on the expectation that thermal coal sales for the full year 2013 will be split approximately 80 per cent thermal coal and 20 per cent middlings.

Approximately 80 per cent of the thermal coal prices have been concluded on the basis of the yearly pricing, while a quarterly pricing period has been applied to approximately 20 per cent of deliveries.

Q4 2013 coke pricing

The average agreed price for coke deliveries in the fourth quarter of 2013 is EUR 231 per tonne, which is flat compared to the third quarter of 2013 realised price.

The average coke price is based on the expectation that fourth quarter 2013 sales will be split approximately 62 per cent foundry coke, 25 per cent blast furnace coke and 13 per cent other types.

Notice

All prices are expressed as blended averages between the different qualities both for coal and coke and are ex-works.

All of the announced prices are indicative prices, and are based on an exchange rate of EUR/CZK of 25.0. A range of factors including, but not limited to, exchange rate fluctuations, quality mix, timing of the deliveries and flexible provisions in the individual agreements, may influence final realised prices. The actual realised price for the period may therefore differ from the average prices announced.
